Plot Revealed To Dynamite Florida Train

FORT PIERCE, Fla. (AP)—Two alleged pickets in the violence-racked Florida East Coast Railway strike were arrested on Thursday night by FBI agents and charged with trying to blow up a train.

Five trains have been dynamited during the 13-month strike. John Wesley Davis, 28, a Fort Pierce area native; and Joseph Leo Vedder, 32, of Miami were jailed in lieu of $75,000 bond each.

The FBI, in an announcement in Washington by Director J. Edgar Hoover, described both men as former employees of the railroad and allegedly active as pickets during the strike.

Hoover said 15 sticks of dynamite were found wired to the rails at the north end of an FEC bridge in Indian River County, north of here.

The explosives were wired so they would detonate when a train's wheels passed over the tracks, the FBI said.

Saboteurs have blown five freight trains off FEC tracks this year, two late last month a few miles from Palatka where President Johnson was making a speech on a Florida tour.

The incident prompted the President to call on the FBI and Labor Department to do all possible to solve the sabotage and settle a 13½-month-old strike by 11 nonoperating unions.

The FBI dispatched a 30-man team to work on the bombings.

Hoover said Vedder, who was armed with a .38 caliber pistol, was arrested in a car near where Davis was apprehended. No further details were released.

The two men were given an immediate hearing before U.S. Commissioner James E. Alderman at Fort Pierce. Bond was set at $75,000 each.

Boy Has 'Urge'; Kills Mother

CADILLAC (AP) — A 15-year-old boy is quoted by police as saying he shot and killed his mother Thursday because "I felt the urge."

Held for Probate Court authorities is John Thomas Legg, adopted child of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Legg of Cadillac.

Mrs. Legg, 55, was shot in the head with a 22 caliber bolt action rifle in the kitchen of her home in a resort area on Lake Mitchell.

Wexford County Prosecutor Burton Hines said the youth reported arriving home early from school "because kids had been throwing snow at me."

Hines quoted John as saying he sat across the table from his mother and suddenly felt "cold all over... then I felt the urge to kill my mother."

State police said John telephoned that he shot his mother. He said he called in hopes of saving her life, troopers said.

John's father, a Consumers Power Co. technician, was not at home at the time.

President Gets Fresh Report On South Viet Nam

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara returned from South Viet Nam today to give President Johnson a first-hand report on how the war is going against Communist guerrillas there.

McNamara told reporters at Andrews Air Force Base that during his swing through the war-torn country "I did not meet a single responsible official who doesn't believe that if a proper effort is made" victory can be obtained.

He added, though, that "the path to victory may be hard."

The defense chief, with Gen. Maxwell E. Taylor, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, standing at his side, said the President had sent them to South Viet Nam for two purposes:

To appraise the political, economic and military situation.

To determine what "additional actions if any" the United States should take in the struggle against Communist-dominated Viet Cong.

The secretary reportedly concluded during his five-day visit — his fourth to the embattled Southeast Asian country — that the massive U.S. aid may have to be stepped up if the war is to be won.

But dispatches from Saigon also said McNamara has vetoed suggestions that the battle be expanded into North Viet Nam.

Johnson sent McNamara and Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, to South Viet Nam last week to make a new assessment of the battle against the Viet Cong.

They were joined there by John A. McCone, director of the Central Intelligence Agency.

Before boarding his home-bound plane Thursday in Saigon, McNamara told cheering Vietnamese that their new premier, Maj. Gen. Nguyen Khanh, has a sound strategy for defeating the Reds and "we are confident these plans point the way to victory."

At the same time the secretary warned that he had found the situation "very serious" and he promised the U.S. government will provide whatever additional aid is necessary.

Aides said McNamara was convinced that only by increased American assistance and greater Vietnamese effort can the Communist tide be stemmed in Southeast Asia.

On his way back to Washington, McNamara stopped at Honolulu for conferences with Adm. Harry D. Felt, Pacific military commander, and Army, Navy and Air Force brass.

He told newsmen he anticipated additional trips to South Viet Nam.

Almost until the moment McNamara took off from Saigon he worked on his report to the President. He had a draft ready when he reached Hawaii.

Rocket Failure Spoils Magnetic Study In Space

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Rocket failure ruined an effort today to boost a scientific probe 23,000 miles into space to study the earth's magnetic field.

A four-stage Blue Scout rocket blasted off right on schedule at 6:40 a. m. with the gold-plated payload in its nose. But 30 minutes later the Air Force reported the fourth stage of the booster failed to ignite.

A statement said the payload separated from the fourth stage "and some useable data was received."

Preliminary estimates indicated the 33-pound package reached an altitude of several hundred miles before plunging back to a fiery re-entry destruction above the Atlantic.

The data received was only a bare fraction of that sought on the probe's intended 10-hour trip into space.

The payload carried a rubidium vapor magnetometer to make an extensive study of the magnetic field and how it is affected by solar winds — great clouds of radiation which burst from the sun and race through space.

Robert Hutchinson, physicist at the Air Force Cambridge Research Laboratories, said the findings could have proved useful in charting the safest route for man to travel on future space flights.

Lung Disease Victims Heard In Lansing Quiz

LANSING (AP) — Five victims of lung disease stood before a public hearing on health Thursday as human exhibits in the case against cigaret smoking.

The five told the House Committee on Public Health they had smoked one to two packages of cigarets a day for 20 to 50 years.

Then, they told of their ailments: Three had lungs removed because of cancer and the others suffered disabling emphysema, a collapse of the lung or stretching of air sacs in the lung.

Their names were not reported.

The victims included a housewife, age 39; a branch bank manager, 51; a United Fund worker, 60; a plasterer, 62, and a painter and decorator, 65.

The subject of the hearing was a set of anti-smoking bills. One would ban the purchase or use of tobacco by anyone younger than 17. The other would provide for licensing all tobacco retailers at fees of $15 which also would apply to cigaret vending machines.

Rep. Edson Root, R-Bangor, chairman of the committee, is chief sponsor of both measures.

Dr. George Moore, director of Roswell Park Memorial Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., argued that more people are killed by cigarets than by cars.

Cigaret smoking is "addictive, habituating disease," he said, and research has shown "tobacco is cancer-producing, whether it is burned or unburned."

Dr. Albert E. Heustis, state health commissioner, said the problem is important enough to warrant action by his department—but that he needs the prestige and force of legislative backing.

The state's present laws "are a mockery and will continue to be as long as any kid can walk up to a machine and buy cigarets."

Strike Idles 5,000 At GM

FLINT (AP) — Nearly 5,000 General Motors car plant workers were idle today in a United Auto Workers strike over production rates at a Chevrolet factory.

Approximately 2,200 Local 659 members walked out at a Chevrolet assembly plant Thursday. Later, Fisher Body Plant No. 2, a supplier, was closed, idling another 2,500 men.

A negotiation meeting was scheduled today between the company and the union.

But Lawley, local vice president, said the local served strike notice earlier over lack of progress in trying to solve work rates grievances.

Lawley said penalties against 35 workers ranging from reprimands to firings were involved. He said the penalties were for failures to keep up with assigned production quotas.

Local 659 accused the company of speedups on both truck and passenger car assembly lines.

Management made no immediate comment.

Teacher Tenure Made Statewide

LANSING (AP) — Mandatory statewide teacher tenure — meaning greater job security for some 50,000 Michigan public school teachers — was on its way to becoming law today.

On a 61-41 vote, the House Thursday approved legislation initiated by the 67,000 member Michigan Education Association with 325,000 petition signatures and passed earlier by the Senate, 20-11.

Tenure will provide that no teacher can be fired without cause after a two-year probationary period. It will go into effect 90 days after the legislature adjourns.

It will replace a 1937 law under which 30,000 teachers in 59 of Michigan's 1,500 school districts, most in populated urban areas have tenure on a local-option basis.

Tenure gives dismissed teachers the right of appeal to the State Tenure Commission and thence to the courts.

The MEA proposal drew support both from lawmakers who favored statewide tenure and others who opposed it but preferred that it be enacted by the legislature rather than risk putting it to a referendum Nov. 3.

Ohio River Flood Loss Tops 50 Million; 9 Dead

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—The crest of the flood-swollen Ohio River moved westward today. It left in its wake several states with damage already estimated at $50 million, and nine deaths.

The Red Cross estimated 110,000 persons were affected. Many thousands of them driven from their homes. The flood picture was one of wading evacuations, and dog-tired flood workers and refugees. Injuries were few.

Flood crests were due today at Cincinnati and Louisville, where a final steel gate in the floodwall clanked into place Thursday afternoon. The wall was prepared to stand a 48-foot crest, or 1.6 feet higher than the predicted crest.

Wall Protects Paducah

There appeared hope the worst was over. Downstream to the west—water began edging toward riverfront buildings at Owensboro, Ky., but only a few families were expected to be routed. A floodwall protects Paducah, near where the Ohio joins the Mississippi River.

Across from Louisville, in Indiana, damage already was estimated at $1 million at Jeffersonville and Aurora. At least 4,000 were made homeless in Indiana.

There was no official estimate of Kentucky evacuees but residents of 30 counties were affected. Southwest of Louisville, officials said about 95 per cent of one huge subdivision fled by Thursday night.

Other states affected were Ohio, Pennsylvania and West Virginia.

Army Engineers gave preliminary estimates of $40.5 million damage along the Ohio from Cincinnati to Paducah—a highway distance of about 350 miles —and more than $9 million from four other Kentucky rivers.

Big Cleanup Starts

Of the deaths blamed on high water, seven were in Ohio and one each in Kentucky and Indiana.

Upstream the big cleanup work started—from pumping basements to repairing whole downtown sections.

Swollen tributaries of the Ohio and even little creeks contributed to the misery and damage. A typical scene was that at a Louisville golf course where a normal trickle of water jumped its banks and ripped out a sturdy metal fence.

More than 3,000 homes and buildings were damaged at Wheeling, West Va., as the river leveled off at 47 feet, 10 feet above flood stage. An estimated 15,000 to 18,000 persons were displaced in the region.

Western Pennsylvania struggled with mud and debris after waters receded. The river crested at 31.6 feet at Pittsburgh, where flood stage is 25 feet.

Hundreds remained in shelter areas in Ohio. The crest figure at Cincinnati was figured to be 66.5 feet, 14½ feet above flood stage.

Epilepsy Expert Last Witness In Jack Ruby Trial

DALLAS (AP)—Dr. Frederic A. Gibbs, Chicago authority on epilepsy, testified today in Jack Ruby's murder trial that Ruby has "a very rare type of epilepsy."

Gibbs told the jury that he came to Dallas voluntarily to testify in the trial of Ruby for the slaying of Lee Harvey Oswald, accused presidential assassin.

Gibbs replied to a question by chief defense counsel Melvin Belli when asked what the specialist found in Ruby's electroencephalograms:

"I detected that he has a particular, very rare type of epilepsy which does not manifest itself in seizures but in other ways."

A number of psychiatric and medical witnesses who have testified for the prosecution said they flatly disagree with Gibbs' interpretations of Ruby's encephalograms—brain wave tests.

Gibbs' name and a letter he wrote concerning his opinion of Ruby's condition have been fiercely fought points of contention throughout Ruby's trial.

Belli made numerous attempts to get Gibbs' findings before the jury, and Dist. Atty. Henry M. Wade struggled to keep them out.

Gibbs was the 66th witness in the trial, nearing the end of its fourth week. The state rested its case late Thursday and Judge Joe B. Brown had expected that would end the testimony.

However, defense lawyers, after a battle, won permission from Judge Brown to delay the end of testimony until today so Gibbs could reach Dallas and testify.

After Gibbs finished, the defense rested. The state finished its case Thursday.

Judge Brown recessed the hearing until 1 p. m. (CST) at which time he said he would be ready to read the charge to the jury.

Death Claims
Hibbing Editor,
Houghton Native

HIBBING, Minn. (AP) — George M. Fisher, who was born in Houghton, Mich., and began his newspaper career on the Mining Gazette there, died here Thursday.

Fisher, 73, retired last Jan. 1 after 46 years with The Hibbing Tribune. He underwent surgery shortly after his retirement and never recovered from it. He was executive editor at his retirement.

Rep. Milton Knabusch, R-Monroe, said the latter idea convinced him to vote for the proposal instead of against it because by passing it, the legislature would maintain the power to amend by a simple majority.

One Democrat and 40 Republicans opposed while 48 Democrats and 13 Republicans voted in favor.

Federal Salary Boost Measure Loses, 222-184

WASHINGTON (AP) — In a sudden seizure of election year jitters, the House has said "no thanks" to a $10,000-a-year pay raise.

Its surprising decision Thursday that at $22,500 Congress members are paid enough, killed a bill that would have boosted the salaries of 1.7 million government workers. The average mailman and government secretary stood to gain $450 annually.

Theoretically, the Senate can revive the pay boost drive later this session, and to make it more palatable, at more modest proportions. Veteran observers consider this unlikely.

Economy Talk Recalled

The higher salary structure had the strong support of the House Democratic leadership and the Johnson administration. It was scaled to boost those in the top levels 22.5 per cent and those on the lower rungs 3 per cent on the theory that the government can retain top people only by making their pay competitive with private industry.

However, this is an election year, and while the voter may favor a $450 raise for his postman he may look askance at a $10,000 boost for his congressman. Besides, the administration has filled the air with talk of economy.

Still, Democratic and Republican leaders were certain that if the House members did not have to go on record the $545 million bill would be passed. As the day wore on, provisions calling for increases for different groups of government workers were approved on lopsided nonrecorded votes.

Now On Record

When the critical vote on over-all passage was imminent, a long-time economy champion, Rep. H.R. Gross, R-Iowa, demanded a roll call. This would force every House member to go on record on a pay boost for himself and would tell the voter how his congressman voted.

Gross' move turned the tide. Although a little while earlier the House had voted 125-37 to keep congressional pay increases in the bill, now 136 Republicans joined with 86 Democrats to defeat the measure 222-184.

The 149 Democrats and 35 Republicans who voted for passage now are on record in favor of a pay increase that they did not get.

Montana Plane Crash Kills 5

MILES CITY, Mont. (AP) — A Frontier Airlines plane crashed in a snowstorm and burned in a deep ravine near the Miles City airport Thursday night, killing both passengers and all three crew members.

Kenneth Huber, pilot of the two-engine DC3, radioed the Miles City airport at 8:40 p. m., reporting he would make an instrument landing in 10 minutes on a flight from Billings to Sidney, Mont.

A wing of the plane apparently struck a hillside. The smoldering fuselage, containing the five bodies, was found an hour later in the 150-foot-deep ravine leading to the Yellowstone River.

The airport at Miles City, an eastern Montana town of 13,000, is situated on a plateau overlooking the river. The plane crashed two miles southwest of the airport and four miles west of Miles City.

The airline identified the dead as Huber, about 45, passengers H. Swenson of Sidney, Mont., and Gayle Bussinger, about 25, Frontier's station agent at Miles City, along with copilot Daniel H. Gough, about 25, and stewardess Dorothy Reig, about 20, both of Billings, Mont.

Bussinger was returning from a trip to Billings taken on his day off. His wife was waiting at the airport.

In Denver, a Frontier spokesman called the crash the airline's first in 18 years.

Teacher Hike Protested Taxpayer Assn. For Debt Vote

President Harold Gasman of the Delta County Taxpayers Assn. today announced that at a meeting Thursday it had endorsed the proposal in the April 6 Escanaba Area School District election to consolidate the debt of the former Ford River Township School District. The district is now a part of the Escanaba Area District and the only unit which retains a bonded debt from the period preceding consolidation in 1959.

Gasman said the Association regarded it as "only fair and just that this debt be assumed by the Escanaba Area. We therefore urge all voters to vote in favor of the half mill for one year to wipe out this unjust situation.

The Association also hereby goes on record as voicing objection to the large salary increase given teachers last week because it was done:

"1. Without giving the matter previous public notice or even advising the school study committee that they were doing it.

"2. Without knowing the approximate total cost to the taxpayers.

"3. Without knowing from where the money is coming.

"4. And because of the size of the increase.

"Just a year ago the teachers pointed out that they were being underpaid $150 a year compared to the average salaries of the surrounding school districts. Soon after that meeting they received a $100 a year increase. Now they are getting another increase, but this time a $340 to $350 per year raise. In our opinion this last increase is not reasonable or justified."

The Taxpayers Association also opposed the $10,000 a year increase in salary for congressmen and urges citizens to write congressmen in opposition.

"On the city level, the Association requests the city council to reconsider its action giving the city employees a holiday on the Friday after Thanksgiving Day. Not working on that day (Friday) leaves the people of Escanaba with no city services for four consecutive days. We are of the opinion that our city employees have no right to deprive our citizens of these many services from Wednesday afternoon to Monday morning."

Beetle Poison Spread Halted

BATTLE CREEK (AP) — A Calhoun County judge ordered a temporary halt Thursday to the State Agriculture Department's program of spreading the chemical Dieldrin to eradicate Japanese beetles in the community.

Circuit Court Judge Creighton R. Coleman said, however, his decision does not make such programs illegal. Under state law, the judge said, the agriculture department first should have given property owners a chance to eradicate the beetles themselves.

If property owners fail to do so, he said, the state can step in and charge eradication costs to them.

Judge Coleman's ruling was on a suit brought by Mrs. T.P. Carbine of Battle Creek, who asked that the program be stopped permanently. Opponents of the program contend that the chemical kills wildlife and is harmful to humans, too.

The state began to spray a large area of the community last year after a survey showed an infestation of the beetles. The program had been halted for the winter.

Hare Hunting Best In Years

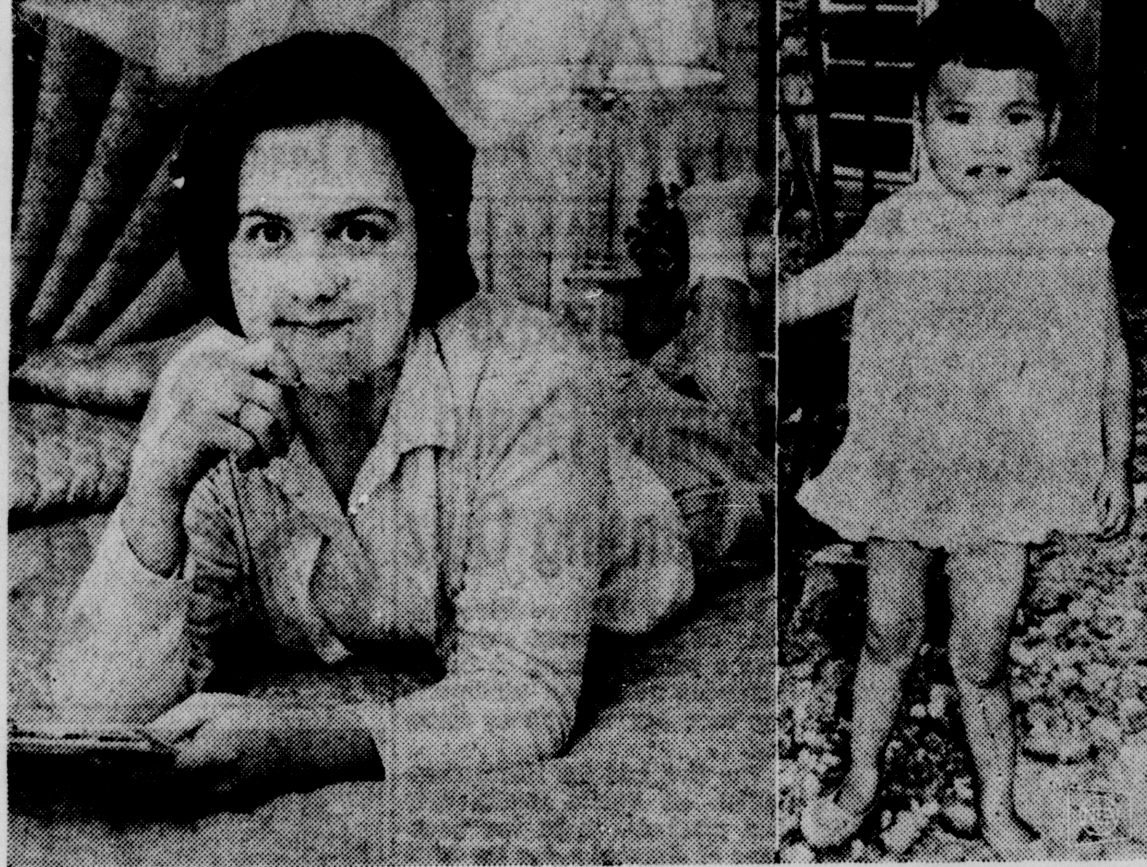

Marquette and Alger counties have reported the best hare hunting this winter since 1959 in the season that closed March 1.

"This was my third season of hunting up here and I found snowshoe hares much more abundant than the last two years," reports Tom Prawdzik, habitat biologist of the Conservation Department, of Ishpeming. "Reports from hunters bagging their daily limit were common. Hunting interest was also much higher, with heaviest pressure on weekends."

"The areas with highest snowshoe hare numbers were in Marquette and Alger counties. In parts of southern Marquette and northern Delta County in deeryard areas the hare numbers were spotty. "Spruce, tag alder swamps surrounded by jack pine plains were the most productive areas. The small swamps in the Chatham and Trenary areas produced well for hunters. We received a report from a party of 9 that bagged 37 hares in a day's hunt near Trenary."

"Hunters with good dogs nearly always got plenty of action. Temperatures around mid-day were generally warm enough so the young and average hounds were able to push hares long enough for hunters to get action."

"Hunting pressure was much greater than a year ago. The increase in hare numbers and the warmer weather kept the hunters' interest up throughout the season. Temperatures were generally above normal since September, but December was the coldest in 30 years. Snow depths were near average in the Lake Superior snowbelt and below normal in the area influenced by Lake Michigan."

SHE CARED ENOUGH—When Susan Bennett, (left), 16, of Fort Worth, Tex., read about the world's homeless children, she decided to do something. Without telling her parents, she skipped on school lunches, saved her summer-job money and began sending $15 a month to the Foster Parents' Plan to help Sung Han Sul (right), a Korean orphan who was found wandering aimlessly on the dirty streets of Pusan. Susan gets letters from those who attend little Sung and, one day, Sung will be told about Susan, a teen-ager who cared enough to become her adopted "mother."

Surveyed Plat Endorsed Here

A project that would provide a surveyed plat with the assistance of the City of Escanaba was accepted by a majority of the property owners in the area between 8th and 13th Aves. S. and from 19th to 23rd Sts. at a meeting in the City Hall last night.

By a show of hands, the property owners present indicated 17 to 1 to the Planning Commission they want the survey plat made.

The meeting was called by the subdivision committee of the Planning Commission. Information was given by Joe Ivens, chairman of the subdivision committee, and by Dale Vinette, chairman of the Planning Commission.

Ivens and Vinette explained that until a survey plat is completed and streets and alleys are laid out and dedicated, the orderly development of the area is impossible. To wait longer increases the difficulty. There is at present one residence almost in the center of a proposed street.

The suggested plat received by the group last night is likely to be changed after further meetings with property owners, who were told they will be called upon to help lay out a plat that will be acceptable to the majority of the people affected.

School Program Advisers Report

The curriculum committee of the Escanaba Area Public Schools, whose study has led to recommendations accepted by the school board, has made additional recommendations relating to program in departments of the Area High School.

George S. Douglas is chairman of the advisory committee composed of a group of citizens of the community.

The most recent recommendations are contained in a report received by the school board Tuesday night and covering Home Economics, English and Social Studies.

In summary the committee is recommending:
Home Economics—A four-year program of home economics be offered to students not going to college.
An elective home economics course be offered to college-bound students.

A family living course be offered to include both boys and girls.

The vocation program should be reestablished to give job training to some students in subjects such as short order cook, waitresses, child care assistant, companion to home-bound and so forth.

Where home economics teachers have many preparations to make they should be provided with clerical help for paper work.

The committee pointed out that additional personnel will be required to implement their recommendations.

English Department—Extend the English 10 course to two semesters. Offer a semester of speech fundamentals.

Maintain regular classes in English 9 and in English 10. Maintain remedial sections in English 9 and English 10 with students permitted to transfer to the regular schedule of English when they gave evidence of ability to carry the work.

Provide defined supervision for the teaching of English in the high school. Establish a film budget for English department.

The English department directed the attention of the committee to "the great need

SOME OF THE officers of the first den of UPSTARTS, organized in Escanaba Thursday night are pictured launching their campaign to keep Governor Romney for Michigan and out of the Republican Presidential race. From left: Hubert (Swede) Boudreau, Escanaba construction contractor, vice president; Tommy Quinn, restaurant operator, president; and John Walbridge, cedar products manufacturer, sergeant-at-arms. April 1 Comes Early UPSTARTS Urge Romney Draft For Lansing

The first den of UPSTARTS to keep Governor Romney from announced candidacy for the Presidency was organized in Escanaba Thursday night by Republicans identified earlier with Citizens for Michigan and Romney Volunteers.

The officers said they hoped the movement would spread in Michigan. They explained that UPSTARTS stands for Upper Peninsula Society To Anstist Romney not Leave MiShigan and they adopted a proclamation which said that although Romney had led Michigan "back to sense, solvency and surplus," it should insist that Romney lead Michigan for four more years so Michigan can lead the nation.

Tommy Quinn, Escanaba restaurant operator, Hubert Boudreau and Erling Arntzen, Escanaba construction contractors, and John Walbridge, rustic cedar products manufacturer, were elected officers of the first den of UPSTARTS.

Quinn, who served as co-chairman of the Romney Volunteers in Delta County with Arntzen, is president, Boudreau is vice president, Arntzen is secretary-treasurer and Walbridge, the Delta County Republican chairman, is sergeant-at-arms.

The UPSTARTS have had Escanaba artist Clarence Moreau design a campaign button which shows the Upper Peninsula large and the Lower Peninsula small and which states the UPSTART slogan "ansist- ing that Romney not leave MiShigan."

Quinn, who took time out from both serious politicking and preparations for celebration of St. Patrick's Day to help get UPSTARTS on the political launching pad, said today that the group would issue charters to all groups wishing to form UPSTART dens in the state and work for another term as governor for George Romney.

Governor Romney has announced that he is not an avowed candidate for the Republican nomination for the presidency but that he would acknowledge a genuine draft for the nomination, which he does not expect to develop. The UPSTARTS don't want one to develop for fear the Michigan recovery and growth program started by the Romney administration will falter, said Quinn.

Leslie Farmer Calls For Help To Oust Snakes

LESLIE (AP) — Perhaps a man can live with one snake in his home—but when the snake turns out to be a mother and starts having baby snakes, that is the time to holler for help.

That was the feeling of Wendell Sager, Leslie farmer, who discovered that a snake living in a crawl space under his home had fostered little snakes. "My children found one of the little snakes in the house," he said. "They put it in a fruit jar and grew quite fond of it. They called it 'Oliver Twist.'"

Then the little snake escaped from the fruit jar and Sager is afraid it might grow up to produce more snakes.

His snake family, Sager said, apparently is of the harmless milk snake variety. But Sager called an expert from Michigan State University to capture and take away his snakes.

Johnson To Take Look At Floods Along The Ohio

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson will make a flying trip over the seven-state Ohio River flood area this afternoon. He plans stops at Pittsburgh and Cincinnati to confer with governors of the affected states.

Johnson's trip to get a first hand look at the worst Ohio River flood in 20 years was announced by the White House barely two hours before the President's scheduled 1 p.m. EST departure.

Banker Admits $36,000 Fraud

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—Wilbur C. VanPopering, 32, vice president of the Wyoming State Bank, pleaded guilty Thursday to one count among three in a federal grand jury indictment citing a $36,000 bank fund shortage.

The plea before U.S. District Court Judge Raymond W. Starr was a change from Feb. 28 when VanPopering pleaded innocent on all three counts.

VanPopering was charged with making false entries in bank records to cover the shortage. Starr ordered him continued on bond to await sentence March 26.

James F. Folkerts, president of Michigan Builders & Contractors Inc. here, pleaded guilty to a three-count indictment charging he caused a Grandville couple to misstate an application for an FHA loan. He was released on $5,000 personal bond to await sentence March 26.

Frank Gernaat, 40, of Kalamazoo, who had pleaded guilty of transporting a stolen car Nov. 26 from Kalamazoo to Chicago, was sentenced to two years in prison.

William W. Johnson, 21, who pleaded guilty of interstate transportation of a forged credit card last Dec. 21 in Owosso, was sentenced to three years in prison.

Romney Signs ADC-U Bill

LANSING (AP)—Gov. George W. Romney today signed into law a bill enabling Michigan to participate in the federal program of aid to dependent children of the unemployed (ADC-U).

At the same time, he ended a year-long fight with federal officials over Michigan restrictions in the application of the welfare aid—and took away from the Democrats' one of their sharpest political weapons.

The bill, a key part of Romney's legislative program, sparked more debate than any other piece of legislation this session.

Already approved by the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare, the bill is expected to save the state nearly $1 million a year in welfare costs. County governments and the City of Detroit would save another $7.7 million, according to figures compiled by Sen. Frank Beadle, R-St. Clair, chairman of the Senate Appropriations Committee.

Romney estimated the plan's eligibility definition would qualify 5,899 families, or 33,000 needy parents and children, for ADC-U funds.

The measure cleared the House on a 95-13 vote 10 days ago. It passed the Senate 29-3. The Senate gave it immediate effect.

Wage Increase Ends Strike At Kalamazoo Firm

KALAMAZOO (AP) — Striking power plant employees at Allied Paper Corp. accepted a 3 per cent wage increase Thursday, ending a seven-day strike.

The strike had idled 127 members of Local 78 of the Brotherhood of Firemen and Oilers and some 550 other company employees.

Local 78 members voted to accept the new contract within hours after they had turned down a 2½ per cent wage boost. Wages in the contract which expired March 1 ranged from $2.46 to $2.98 hourly.

The new pact also changed procedure for handling grievances.

Book Fair Will Highlight Week

Delta and Schoolcraft counties planned a busy joint observance of National Library Week April 12-18 at a meeting of the Library Week Committee of the two counties at Gladstone High School library Thursday night.

Miss Mary Croteau, consultant of the Michigan State Library, and Harry Courtwright, director of the Carnegie Public Library, Escanaba, described library system needs in the Upper Peninsula and reviewed legislation now in the hopper in Lansing to provide for library aid and to provide incentives for the creation of library systems, embodying several public libraries. The U. P. minimum population quota for a system would be 50,000.

Chairmen of sub-committees for the observances of Library Week were named and programs adopted:

Govt. Discrimination

When the U.S. Weather Bureau closed the Escanaba Weather Station last fall after operating it for 92 years there were some protests from the area. They weren't very noisy. The area had lost a couple jobs and a government service of nearly a century. The Upper Peninsula had lost so much that a little more seemed inevitable.

But when Roy L. Fox, of Kansas City, regional administrator of the Weather Bureau, came to Escanaba on Thursday for a public hearing, the community knew what it meant to be without good weather service and the protests on the closing of the Escanaba Weather Station were much more vocal.

Now that the station has been closed for 6 months, the hole that its closing has created in mid-Upper Peninsula information is clear. And it is an impediment to growth.

What browned off the meeting early was the revelation that the Weather Bureau, which has chopped off the Escanaba Station, had accepted a mandate from Congress to start a new station at Houghton Lake in a resort area of Lower Peninsula. Whereas there's an estimated saving of from $15,000 to $20,000 a year in closing the Escanaba Station, the Houghton Lake station will cost an estimated $75,000 a year. Its observations will be used in reporting fire conditions for the forest services, it was explained.

But the Escanaba Station also made observations which were used by forest services in the big area which it supplied with weather service. Joseph Vogt, game supervisor for Region 3 of the Michigan Conservation Department, told Fox: "The Weather Station's specific predictions were extremely useful for survey work, boating, plane flights, fire control and all outdoor activities. The detailed monthly summaries were especially valuable in appraising production, survival and harvest of wildlife."

Escanaba's effort to continue this weather service gets no encouragement from the Weather Bureau on merit. It's going to spend more of its funds on scientific doodles, less on relaying its findings to the public. The only kind of weather that can freeze you, wet you, bake you, or kill you with a skid is the weather that you're in. It can't happen afar. A flood in the Ohio Valley interests the Upper Peninsula but doesn't threaten it. We don't start filling sandbags here when it happens there.

But we're certainly interested in the weather that's going to freeze our petunias, sink our outboard, spoil our picnic or plug our driveway with a snowdrift. The Weather Bureau proposes to solve this by pumping more blood into the arteries that nourish the TV stations and less into the capillaries that nourish the local news media.

The Upper Peninsula's Riviera can keep its weather service if it values it. It can write its Congressman Knox and Senators McNamara and Hart in protest. It can protest the elimination of an important, low-cost station in the Upper Peninsula and the addition of a new, high-cost station in the Lower Peninsula.

The implications of the Weather Bureau's pull-out here are pointed out by the Conservation Department. It has its district headquarters for Marquette and Delta counties and the west half of Alger in Escanaba, but it no longer gets weather data here, so it now reports what Marquette says about district conditions. The next step is to move the headquarters to Marquette to be near more information services.

The Federal Government's professed concern about the economy of the Upper Peninsula is shown to be a hollow thing when it sends us economic carpetbaggers to suggest ways for us to increase area income and then withdraws a century-old service that provides vital information for our economic base.

This is an election year. "How do you stand on the Weather Station question, Mr. Congressman?"

Fine Choice

Selection of Glenn Gregg as Upper Peninsula regional manager of the Michigan Department of Conservation is an excellent choice and applauded by all who know him. He succeeds Dorias J. Curry of Marquette, who was highly respected throughout the Upper Peninsula for the manner in which he carried out his duties during the 16 years he held the post as the department's No. 1 man above the Straits. Curry was promoted to deputy director of the department in charge of field operations Jan. 1 and transferred to Lansing.

Gregg brings to his new office impressive qualifications, professionally and personally, and can be counted on to provide a fine administration for the Conservation Department in the Upper Peninsula.

Gregg has been a member of the department since 1941 and has been assigned to the regional office in Marquette since 1946 as Upper Peninsula parks and recreation supervisor. In that capacity, he worked with all of the other divisions of the department.

He undertakes his new responsibilities at a time when the department is undergoing its greatest change since it was organized in 1921 and he will be in a key position to carry out these changes in the Upper Peninsula. The regional manager's job, always a demanding one, will carry with it special challenges. The Upper Peninsula is fortunate in having a man of Gregg's quality on hand to meet these challenges.

Bits About 'Em

Recent tidbits from the news which may have eluded the busy reader are offered here as a friendly service:

● A survey shows that by the time he reaches 15 the average American kid has witnessed the violent destruction on his television screen of more than 13,000 human beings. (Man, that's living!)

● A student just back from a semester aboard a floating campus called "University of the Seven Seas" warns scholars over 30 not to try it. "They couldn't stand the strain," he says. (High tension on the high seas.)

● Beachboys at Waikiki Beach are complaining about the presence of too many "half-naked girls in bikinis." (Boys are getting tired of too much of too little?)

● Statistics indicate a girl has a better chance of landing a husband on a ski slope than most anywhere else. (Men fall oftener there?)

● A scientist says the day is coming when women will be bald the same as men. (Even hair can stand only so much teasing.)

Things will never get dull as long as there are people.

Washington Comment

By BRUCE BLOSSAT

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — The signs of interest in Richard M. Nixon seen a good deal greater among Republican party professionals than they were two months ago. But he is far from being embraced universally as a possible compromise choice for the 1964 GOP presidential nomination.

A Wyoming leader, while stressing that Sen. Barry Goldwater is still the prime favorite in his state, noted in a telephone interview that Nixon today has "pretty good strength." One poll of modest scale showed the 1960 nominee as Goldwater's only substantial competition.

Minnesota Republicans who reported on Nixon's recent "law business" visit to Minneapolis said he did remarkably well in a state that is presently torn between Goldwater and potential favorite Sen. Walter Judd, former congressman. On his "lawyer's errand," Nixon managed to squeeze in a round of luncheons and receptions, to give a solid hour to the press, and to attend a "dollar breakfast" at which he was principal speaker. The general response was good.

At a sizable GOP dinner in Nebraska, a poll among some 500 party people gave Nixon a narrow edge over Goldwater. This is a state where all 16 convention delegates are said to be ready to lunge for Goldwater. The gathering may not have been entirely representative of state sentiment, but the poll nevertheless has caused comment in and beyond Nebraska.

Just a few days ago three

South Dakota newspapers did some polling in their own "Goldwater country." They did not measure the senator against other Republicans, but set each GOP prospect against President Johnson.

As he has done in such tests nationally, Nixon showed best. Goldwater ran third, behind Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge. Johnson led in all cases.

Yet this kind of thing is not turning up everywhere. In many spots, unhappy memories of 1960 continue to plague Nixon.

Says a Rhode Island professional: "We have all the respect in the world for Dick Nixon. . . . But, oh dear, do we have to go through this again?" Little support for Nixon exists today in Rhode Island, another leader indicates.

In Maine the story is similar: "Nixon isn't in the picture as yet."

Leaders in tiny Delaware echo this response. And professionals in a number of the larger states, with big convention votes and electoral counts, conspicuously fail to make prominent mention of Nixon.

While the pattern is not yet sufficiently filed out to be convincing, the fragmentary evidence suggests that Nixon may be emerging as a real second choice possibility in one big segment of "Goldwater country"—the Mountain and Plains states.

As has been widely noted, Nixon's recently uttered statements on civil rights and other topics appear designed to woo

Goldwater backers in both the West and the South.

(One Colorado man filed an exception to the Nixon indications in the West, saying: "Two-time losers aren't very popular. . . . I doubt that he would carry Colorado.")

But those parts of the East where anti-Goldwater sentiments are powerful are the places where the idea of Nixon on a second time is most stoutly resisted—or just not thought of. In these, compromise talk is still vague. Whatever focus it has is on Gov. William Scranton of Pennsylvania.

Should compromise be the order of the day in San Francisco next July, Nixon plainly will be a factor to consider. Just as clearly, he is today a long, long way from the broad party consideration he would need for victory.

Dear Ann Landers: I am a widow who has been going with a very fine widower for several months. We are both in our early 40's. Dr. D. is considered quite a catch and many divorcees and widows who are younger than I, and better looking, have shown more than casual interest in him.

Last evening we were walking from the movie to the car when he casually strolled over to the gutter. He leaned over as if to pick up something and said "I thought it was a penny, but it was only a cigar wrapper." I was embarrassed to think he would bother to pick up a penny.

Dr. D. is not what I would call a wild spender, but neither is he tight. What do you make of this? Does it mean he might be keeping his skin-flint tendencies under wraps and that marriage to such a man might be a financial hell? Please advise. — LOOKING BEYOND

Dear B: If Dr. D. is in his early 40's he was a youngster during the depression when a penny bought something — a jaw-breaker, a handful of peanuts or jelly beans, a stick of licorice. And five pennies (heavy help us we should be so lucky) bought a hot dog or a double-dip ice cream cone. Your friend's respect for a penny undoubtedly dates back to his childhood. This doesn't mean he is cheap. It means he has a good memory.

Dear Ann Landers: Our daughter who is 22 was engaged to a young man from a well-to-do west coast family. The date was set, the invitations sent out, and tickets purchased by her grandparents for a Jamaican honeymoon. Six days before the wedding I received a phone call from the groom's mother. She said "Charles is very run-down from

I pitched into school work and attacked my studies fiercely. I joined organizations and developed leadership qualities. I won honors for academics and music. I told myself there must be no time wasted hating, condemning or whining.

Today I am married to a marvelous man. I know now my mother was a sick woman, filled with jealousy and hate. She had to take it out on someone and I was the victim. Don't ask me where I got the understanding. I don't know. But I did get it. And now I am giving it to you, Mary—YOUR SISTER UNDER THE SKIN

SCENE OF TRIAL—Mrs. Marguerite Oswald, mother of Lee Harvey Oswald, talks to newsmen on the overpass bridge near the spot where President Kennedy was shot in Dallas. The building at the left in the background is the Texas School Book Depository and the building at right is the courthouse where the Jack Ruby trial is being held.

Balance Grows

LANSING (AP)—Income into the state treasury during the past week was $36 million and outgo was $30.4 million. The state treasury balance at the end of the week was $154.61 million.

Ruta Lee Cuts Soviet Red Tape

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Ruta Lee, familiar with Hollywood procedure, went to the front office to get something done — the front office in Moscow's Kremlin.

The actress, after a vain eight-year effort to obtain a Soviet exit visa to bring her 84-year-old grandmother to the United States, got word the other day that her grandmother was dying.

She tried all the regular methods of getting her parents and herself behind the Iron Curtain, but was told it would take months before anything could be done.

She broke through the Iron Curtain of red tape Wednesday night by placing a person-to-person call to the Kremlin to Nikita Khrushchev.

She didn't get Khrushchev, but she did talk for some $200 worth to a gentleman who identified himself as the Soviet premier's interpreter.

"He spoke English like a Harvard professor," the actress said. "And, like all foreigners think things are done in the United States, he suggested that I contact my congressman. "I told him I had already done that, and just became more persuasive. The more persuasive I became, the more sympathetic he became.

"Finally, he told me I should contact the Soviet Embassy in Washington — something which I'd already done before."

Nevertheless, she called the Soviet Embassy again Thursday.

"I talked with a very courteous official who seemed to know a good deal about my problem. He allowed as how it might be possible to get the visa okayed in a matter of hours, instead of almost a month."

Result: Saturday, with practically no red tape showing, Ruta and her Lithuanian-born parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kilmonis, will fly to London.

On Monday they are booked on a flight to Moscow, where the same day they will fly from Moscow to Vilnius, the capital of Lithuania. Vilnius is only 200 miles from Daug, the home of her grandmother, Mrs. Ludvika Kamandulis.

Women's Activities

Well-Suited on Easter Morning

By HELEN HENNESSY

NEW YORK — (NEA) — Although Easter will be early this year, in many parts of the country March 29 will be a balmy day and suits will be worn by a large contingent of the Easter Parade.

Suits are soft this season, and many skirts are pleated, flared or flounced.

In some styles, jackets are open to reveal a pretty blouse, often part of the ensemble.

The regimental and reefer looks do appear, but these styles are merely suggested. According to the National Board of the Coat and Suit Industry, designers have discovered that women prefer to combine their military fashions with a dash of softness. And so the reefer look is merely hinted at in notched collars, gilt buttons and martingale belts for back interest.

Textures are softer than in fabrics of past seasons. They are airy and flatter in surface. One lightly nubbed wool tweed, called Filigree, is as light as spring itself, comes in a range of pastels and is a perfect background for a glamorous Easter bonnet.

Imaginative buttons and pockets abound, and often they are more fashionable than functional.

Other fabrics that capture attention are the new mohairs, airy monotone tweeds, imaginatively textured or classic menswear worsted, supple twills, coverts, wool crepes and ottomans. And plaids and checks are favorites, too.

Colors are beautiful. Pinks go from a soft pastel to a hot dazzling pink, called Acapulco. Gold and lemon are on the scene and blues range from the palest to a fresh looking sapphire and navy. Green from soft olive to Kelly will be rampant and bright reds will add a spicy accent to the Easter promenade.

This season fashion is a paradox. Suits will be colorful, subdued, dashing and feminine all at once.

The blazer influence in suits will be popular this Easter. Soft blazer suit (left) by Frank Gallant is in light blue textured wool tweed, with matching jewel buttons. Suit with lighter-toned, nubby mohair long jacket (right) has stand-up convertible collar and back belt. Contrasting worsted skirt is dark in tone. This is a Zelinka-Matlick design.

Mrs. Michigan Lives In Livonia

DETROIT (AP)—A vivacious suburban housewife is Mrs. Michigan of 1964.

She is Mrs. Duane Roger Egeland of Livonia, a 36-year-old mother of two, and her home town adjoins that of Mrs. Lila Masson, who brought the title of "Mrs. America of 1963" back to Redford Township.

Mrs. Egeland's given names are Elvira Jean and she was born in Toledo, Ohio. Her complexion is fair, her hair light brown and her 133 pounds are well distributed over a 5-foot-6½ frame.

'Fly High With Fashion' Features Stores' Best

Members of the Welcome Wagon Newcomers Club are busy with last minute preparations for what promises to be one of the finest productions ever staged by the organization. This year they celebrate the 10th anniversary of the Fashion Show-Dessert on Sunday, March 15 at 8 p.m.

"Fly High With Fashion", this year's inviting theme, is a call to all fashion-conscious people (men included) to be on hand when the best of 1964 is unveiled by local merchants.

This spring's loveliest styles will be reviewed before an anticipated capacity crowd at the Holy Name High School Multi-Purpose Room. Tickets are still available from West End Drug Store, Gartner's, Gust Asp or from ticket chairman, Mrs. John Bell, ST6-6615.

Saturday will bring together the 50 models and various committees who will rehearse for the big day. Dick Steede, talented Escanaba musician, will provide organ music, so appropriate for spring and its new fashions.

Mrs. Forrest Henslee is general chairman of the popular event that features styles for men, women, teens and children.

Ten Merchants

Ten local merchants will be featuring their best at the show. Those who will participate are: Montgomery Ward, who promise the best once again, with smart black outfits for women, many in the popular A-line. Wards also will featured three-piece knit suits, formal wear, sportswear ensembles and afternoon casuals in airy pastels with stunning hats to match. Children will also model, like only they can do, for Wards. The models for Montgomery Ward are: Mrs. Warren Johnston, Mrs. Ron Vogt, Mrs. Robert Appel, Miss Penny Johnson and Miss Martha Snyder. The children models are: Jerry Ammel, Sherri Caron, Patti Moore, Diane Lindstrom, and Terri Goodman.

Featured in ladies fashions from Penney's will be lovely spring cottons, chic afternoon and evening ensembles, coats and suits in the latest shades of Spring, sportswear sets and matching accessories. Children's spring fashions from both the girls' and boys' departments will also be shown. Modeling for Penney's will be: Mrs. Vincent Lewis, Mrs. Ernest Briere, Miss Shelia Piche, Mrs. O. W. Brooks, Miss Sue Garrard and Mrs. Jim Davidson. For the children's department will be: Cheryl St. Pierre, Mark St. Pierre and Judy Engstrom.

Footwear

Robert's Shoes will furnish footwear for models from various clothing stores. Be sure to keep an eye out for black patent, the majority favorite for spring dress, but patents in many other colors will also vie for top honors. Of particular interest in shoes will be bold pastels and a striking new spring neutral called "White Lightning." Shoes are bare this year with sides open or the backs sandalized. Heel interest is lower and toes are neither extreme in points nor bluntly rounded. It's an exciting season for shoes with freshness in every detail.

Appearing for Gartner's will be models in an unusual collection of spring coats, suits and costumes in the newest styles in imported fabrics. Along with casual dresses Gartner's will also feature a complete line of sportswear for women and teens. One of the more popular parts of the style show is the showing of the bridal party. This year, as every year, Gartner's will show some of the loveliest gowns available for bride, maids and of course the mother of the bride. Those who will model for Gartner's are Mrs. Robert Stumm, Mrs. William Hemes, Mrs. Mae Frenn, Mrs. Ed Hengesh, Miss Karla Gray, Miss Martha Johnson and Miss Barbara Derouin.

Elsie's Apparel will show hats for every occasion in all the colors for spring. Coat ensembles, including the new sleeveless coat idea, will be a big attraction too. Dresses in casual and dressy styles will be featured in cotton, dacron and crepe in all the favored colors for spring. Showing clothes from Elsie's will be Mrs. Gustaf Anderson, Mrs. John Hemes, Mrs. George Belanger and Miss Sandi Makinen.

Peterson Shoes will feature the femme fatales of shoe fashion for after five wear... the "less shoe" with cutouts and sandal backs. Colors will range from hot reds to black midnight in iridescent jubilee patent, patina and new, ever blending white lightning. Peterson's of course will also feature shoes for the sportswear set in all the latest styles.

Men's Fashions

From the Leader Store comes news in women's coats... the shaped front in bright and light tweeds. Coats are designed from shape retaining laminated fabrics in dressy navy and black. The Leader Store will also feature fabric suits at the fashion show. Textured fabric suits are popular and so are jacket dresses. Hats that are large and flowered are greatly accepted this year as are the profile straws. Mrs. John Greis, Miss Mary Devlin, Mrs. Richard Sharkey and Miss Lois Friberg will model for the women's department. John Kleiman will show clothes from the Leader Store for men. The trend is from medium to dark shades and sharkskin weaves are back. Sportcoats are being shown in the lighter, bold plaid patterns.

The Morrison Shop will show what's new for the children and sub-teens. Dressy things for church and parties will be featured as well as sports and casuals in knits, cotton and dacron in all the new beautiful spring colors. The 11 members of the Easter Basket set who will model for the Morrison Shop are: Lisa and Kim Moraco, Janet Parisco, Kim Vezina, Pat and Cindy O'Connell, Marilyn Stumm, Kim and Debbie Anderson, Candy and Tracy Thompson. Mary Anderson will model sub-teen styles.

News from Anderson Bloom Menswear has it that Spring 1964 is ushering in a new era in men's clothing. Color is the by-word for spring this year. Tones of beige, olive, the exciting new clay and putty shadings are the colors that are revolutionizing the charcoal and blacks that before exclusively predominated the field. Blends of dacron wool and mohair wool are very much in demand again this season. As one of the sponsors of the Newcomers Club Style Show Anderson Bloom will be presenting some of the newest and most exciting mens fashions in many years. Men's fashions will be modeled by Terry Dufour, Brent Baum and Jim Clairmont.

There's a rainbow of colors that will be shown from the Manning Shoe Store. Shoes will be fashioned from patents to lustre leather. One particular shoe that will be shown Sunday is a peacock blue patent, sandal style with open sides and heel. Lighter footwear is the by-word in fashion this year. Another outstanding

Gifts Planned For Patients By Auxiliary

BARK RIVER — The Rheume-Knauf American Legion Auxiliary, meeting Monday at the Community Hall, was asked to bring one or two items to the next meeting for shipment to the 72 veteran patients at the Newberry State Hospital.

Mrs. Robert Robinette and Mrs. Donald VanEnkevort are co-chairmen for the card party which the auxiliary will sponsor on Saturday, April 11, at the Community Hall. There will be an advance ticket sale and these may be purchased from any member of the auxiliary.

Anyone having any old flags which they wish to dispose of are requested to give them to any auxiliary member before the end of March. The Auxiliary will have a flag burning ceremony shortly thereafter.

Mrs. John Krause reported she has several boxes of used Christmas and greeting cards to send to the hospital at Newberry. Mrs. Royal Seymour was welcomed as a new member.

The Legion emblem and 45 were in the center of the Lower Peninsula and in the Upper Peninsula she had "Here We Are, Post 438" marking the location of Bark River. The cake was presented to Joseph Arkenes.

Lunch was served by Mesdames Frank Adams, Adolph Dahl and Kenneth Taylor and cards were enjoyed during the social hour following the meeting.

If you want an upside-down cake to taste its very best, serve it warm. If the cake must be made ahead, reheat it.

Irish Singer Busy In March

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Mid-March is the busiest time of the year for a pretty, red-haired young singer — Carmel Quinn, once of Dublin and now a Leona, N.J., housewife and mother. She has established the relationship to St. Patrick's Day that Lucy Monroe once had to "The Star Spangled Banner."
"We — I — get literally hundreds of invitations to appear on the great day," said Miss Quinn, in a brogue untouched by American inflection. "Some of the biggest clubs of the country want me for the whole week and there are always special affairs in honor of the Saint."
Although all television variety shows to be seen around the Irish holiday automatically are colored green and sing of leprechauns and shamrocks, Miss Quinn will be visible only on one: Ed Sullivan's program Sunday night.
On great day itself, next Tuesday, she will be singing some Irish songs on Arthur Godfrey's morning radio show. This is as it should be: she was launched on her career as a contestant on Godfrey's old "Talent

MANISTIQUE

Laurie Fyvie Guest Soloist Sunday With Green Bay Orchestra

Laurie Fyvie, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. James A. Fyvie of Manistique, appears Sunday evening as guest soloist with the Green Bay Symphony orchestra. She won the 1964 Young Artists competition of the Symphony.

Miss Fyvie is a student at Lawrence Conservatory of Music and for 15 of her 21 years has been "wrapped in pursuit of music," the Green Bay Press-Gazette notes in a feature story with Don Vorpal's byline. For many of the years her ambition has been to "find out if I can compete in the professional concert world," she states. She is a bassoon player and plans to attend a graduate school of music later, to see "if there is a career for me in symphonic playing."

The Press-Gazette story notes careful planning has earned Miss Fyvie an enviable record. She credits her home environment for a sound beginning. Her mother is a fine pianist with a rich background and once taught music at a school for the blind. Mrs. Fyvie, it notes, also studied under pianist Robert Cassadeu in France.

Laurie's piano study began when she was 7, "but not with my mother. It seemed best for both of us," she told the interviewer. A second step was clarinet study and then junior band at Manistique.

After sixth grade, she enrolled for a summer's study as a clarinetist at Interlochen, and returned for three consecutive seasons, once as a clarinetist, three times as a bassoonist and twice to study ballet, which was her first love at the time.

In 1960 she went to Lawrence College as a liberal arts major. "But the music bug had bitten hard and the next summer I just had to return to Interlochen to determine if I really wanted to be a musician."

She studied music theory, bassoon and piano and the decision was to concentrate on music education. She also looks back on many performing experiences with the Concert Band under Fred Schroeder, her bassoon teacher, three years in the Lawrence Symphony orchestra and one season with the Chamber orchestra. She had principal bassoon chair with the band for three years and with the orchestras for one year each.

Last year she also played with the Manitowoc Civic orchestra, and at Ripon College, with its band under guest conductor Vincent Persichetti. She returns to Ripon to play later this month. She also played with the Neenah High School orchestra in Burrill Phillips "Concert Piece for Bassoon and Strings." The work was repeated by the same concert team at the annual Mid-West band clinic in Chicago.

Laurie, who had entered the Symphony competition "just for experience," said the selection was one of the high points of her career. The other was a tour of Europe to study art and architecture last summer with Dr. and Mrs. Ralph Gabriel of Ripon College and nine other students. They studied at Oxford University in England, for three weeks, supplementing work with trips through the countryside and to the British Museum in London. Much was in preparation for a later visit in Greece. They were tutored by an Englishman who traveled with them.

Miss Fyvie plans a half recital at Lawrence's Harper Hall April 19 and has been selected to appear with the Lawrence Symphony Orchestra in its June commencement concert.

Mine Pipe Line May Make Gas Available Here

Michigan Consolidated Gas Co. officials of Detroit told Escanaba city officials Thursday night at city hall that the natural gas supply prospect in the Upper Peninsula has changed radically and that it may be in a position in a couple weeks to offer the cities of Escanaba and Gladstone natural gas service.

The offer hinges on decision by Hanna Mining Co. to take natural gas service from Mich Con for its big iron ore pelletizing plant at its Groveland Mine near Randville in Dickinson County on the Menominee Range. Most of the ore from the plant moves through the Port of Escanaba.

Hugh C. Daly, executive vice president of Mich Con, told Escanaba city officials in a special informal meeting after Hanna acts Mich Con proposes to approach the cities of Escanaba-Gladstone and Iron Mountain-Kingsford and those between on a proposed gas pipe line from Menominee and ask:

Downstate Rate

1. For the cities to give Mich Con a franchise to serve them with natural gas at a rate identical with those charged in out-state downstate Michigan (it would be cheaper than the rate in Menominee-Marquette from the same pipe line owned by Mich Con's sister firm, Michigan Wisconsin Pipe Line Co.)

2. For the City of Escanaba to agree to sell to Mich Con for an agreed price (investment, depreciation) its present propane gas generating plant and gas distribution system. Mich Con, said Daly, would also like to buy the city's central steam heating plant which furnishes heat to downtown commercial buildings.

Mich Con would junk much of Escanaba's existing gas distribution system, write off the propane plant, construct its own copper tube, higher pressure gas distribution system at an expenditure of more than $1,250,000, extend the system to outlying areas not now served by gas.

Last In Michigan

Daly said Escanaba's municipally-owned gas utility is the only one left in Michigan and that Mich Con would buy it and replace it to serve the local market because a city-owned gas utility would not develop the potential market for natural gas here fully.

3. For city council to agree on the Mich Con purchase of the gas utility, subject to a vote of the Escanaba voters, authorizing the sale.

4. For Mich Con to get approval of the government regulatory agencies to the proposal. This plan, said Daly, would make the vote of the people of Escanaba final, confirm council action and authorize sale of the municipal gas utility to Mich Con and approve its gas service to the city.

The proposal of Mich Con is for service into the Upper Peninsula only to the Escanaba and Iron Mountain areas, not on to the Marquette Range. Northern Natural Gas Co. has proposed to extend its natural gas pipe line from Duluth across Wisconsin and into the Upper Peninsula to Escanaba-Gladstone and serve the mineral industries and communities between.

Hurt U.P. Elsewhere?

City officials asked Daly if Escanaba, by agreeing to the Mich Con pipe line proposal, would jeopardize gas service to the rest of the Upper Peninsula by Northern Natural? Daly suggested that Escanaba let Hanna Mining Co. decide that issue. He said that Mich Con was offering Hanna a contract for gas lower priced than Northern Natural's offer and with no "take it or pay for it" penalty clause.

The lower price is possible, said Daly, because Mich Con will be buying from Michigan-Wisconsin at Menominee at the lowest rate for large volumes (taking gas from M-W elsewhere if necessary to justify the rate) and will have only a $10 million pipe line cost compared with a $30 million investment for Northern Natural.

Daly said that since natural gas for the U.P. was projected several years ago, unsuccessfully, the situation has changed drastically. Natural gas is now in extra abundant national supply and seeking markets and Federal Power Commission approval now is needed only to connect the proposed U.P. line with Michigan Wisconsin's line at Menominee. After that the only regulatory control is by Michigan Public Service Commission.

Chamber Backs School Issue

Proposal of the Escanaba Area Board of Education in the April 6 election to levy a half mill for one year to retire the remaining $25,000 elementary school debt of the former Ford River School District was endorsed by directors of the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce Thursday at the Chamber building. Present John Anthony presided.

Recommendation for the assumption of the debt was made by the Chamber's Education Committee, headed by Ted Fordney. The Board said that fulfillment of the promises made to the voters of Ford River Township on the consolidation of the debt must be carried out to keep faith and create a better feeling on the part of the township involved.

The Board also approved the recommendations of the Chamber's Agricultural Committee which would request legislation to tighten the control of milk quality at the retail level, to require the labeling of "import" and "frozen" meat at the retail level rather than at the packing house level, and the endorsement of Michigan House Bill No. 217 which would require the bonding of potato handlers. Richard Marengier and George Bathke are co-chairmen of the committee.

The recommendation of the Chamber's Tourism Committee for an endorsement of the proposed right-of-way sign bill proposed by Senator Kent Lundgren was accepted by the Board. The bill will limit the use and control by the State Highway Department of certain highway right-of-ways of state trunkline highways. Walter O'Brien is chairman of the committee.

The Convention and Greeters Committee will host band directors who will attend the U.P. Chorus and Orchestra Festival in Escanaba on Saturday, April 18 at luncheon. Chamber Manager Walter Lewke reported that 18 Upper Michigan High schools will participate in the festival, which will bring a total of 2,000 students and band directors to Escanaba.

The United Parcel Service is now providing delivery service within Michigan and making regular pick-ups in the Escanaba area, Walter Lewke reported. Located at Manistique, the office is open from 8:30 to 9:00 a. m., and may be reached by telephone at 341-2146. Manistique. The service expedites the pick-up and delivery of parcels within Michigan and as soon as service is established outside the state of Michigan, it will be a definite aid to businessmen who can use the service.

Powers Of FTC Challenged In Cigarette Ads

NEW YORK (AP) — The American Newspaper Publishers Association said Thursday that it has challenged the authority of the Federal Trade Commission to put into effect trade regulation rules affecting cigarette advertising.

"This is a job for Congress," the association said in a statement submitted to the FTC last Monday, adding: "If the Federal Trade Commission can under the law state to any industry what its advertisements must or must not contain, then it must be assumed that it can do this for all industry and, for that matter, all advertisers in this country under similar circumstances."

Arthur B. Hanson, ANPA general counsel, will testify for the association at a FTC hearing March 18. While emphasizing that it takes no position as to the merits or demerits of cigarette smoking, the ANPA said it is concerned with the fundamental question as to whether the FTC has been given the power by Congress to promulgate substantive trade regulation rules which would "limit the freedom of advertisers and inescapably of advertising media."

The Board heard reports on the Midwest travel shows now in progress and at which Escanaba Press tabloids and Escanaba Chamber of Commerce tourist literature is being distributed. Lewke said he plans to attend the travel shows being held in Milwaukee this weekend and Chicago the following weekend.

The Swanson Oil Co. was welcomed as a member.

Gas Price 'War' Is Opened Here

Mileage gas today set the stage for a gasoline price war in Escanaba by underselling the others, with one exception, while most dealers in Escanaba today held firm against below market prices.

A firm new to Escanaba, the Mileage station is located on 1st Ave. S. in the 700 block.

Their posted prices today were 29.9 cents per gallon for regular and 31.9 cents for premium gas. One other station dropped to that level. Other companies were holding out with prices at 35.9 cents for regular and 39.9 for premium gas. Those are their usual prices.

Mileage gas has stations in most towns in the Upper Peninsula and their prices are lower than the so-called "majors" by as much as two cents a gallon. The Mileage gas' nearest refinery is at Duluth.

"We are hoping to avert a price war," said one spokesman for one of the major firms. One of the problems of the business is to "keep the stations open and a man in them who can earn a decent living," said the spokesman, who added that there are already a large number of stations in the area and that profits per station are low.

"To make a go of it, a station has to sell 500 gallons a day," he said. "Many stations in town are selling as little as 300 gallons, not grossing enough to pay a man decent wages."

Mileage gas is occupying a station that is off the main street and for that reason may have to set lower prices in an effort to gain volume, it was pointed out.

Canada Pledges 1,000 Men For Cyprus Patrol

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Secretary-General U. Thant sought another 2,500 troops for Cyprus today after Canada's pledge of 1,000 men brought creation of the U.N. peace force closer to reality.

The Canadian soldiers will join the 3,500 men Britain has promised to keep on the island as part of the international army. Thant is seeking a 7,000-man U.N. force, which is the strength of the present British contingent.

Canadian Foreign Secretary Paul Martin arrived from Ottawa Thursday night to give Thant personal assurances Canada would participate in the U.N. force and also pay for transporting and maintaining Canadian troops.

Martin said French-Canadian soldiers of the Royal 22nd Regiment at Camp Valcartier, Que., would leave for Cyprus as soon as one more country joined the force and the Canadian Parliament approved Canada's participation.

Other troop contributions were expected from Finland and Sweden.

With the troop logjam broken and financial contributions coming in, Thant advised the Security Council he was confident

Russia Will Free Fliers If U.S. Admits Spying

BERLIN (AP) — The Soviet Union will release three captured Air Force officers if the U.S. government admits it ordered them to fly over East Germany, an informed source reported today.

The three officers parachuted from an RB66 reconnaissance plane shot down by a Soviet fighter over East Germany Tuesday.

The informant said if the United States does not issue a public admission that they were ordered to fly over Communist territory, the three will be tried on espionage charges.

The source, who insisted on his name being withheld, and who spoke with the understanding that he not be identified as Eastern or Western added that the three officers have been told of this condition for their release. He said the U.S. government also has been informed.

The United States has thus far maintained that the plane was on a routine training flight and blundered across the Iron Curtain into East Germany.
